RE: Email Notification of CFE Regulatory Circulars

Updates CFE Regulatory Circular RG17-031

Beginning January 1, 2018, Cboe Futures Exchange, LLC (“CFE” or the “Exchange”) changed the manner in which notices are disseminated to Trading Privilege Holders (“TPHs”) and other market participants. As part of this change, it was announced that the Exchange would no longer disseminate regulatory circulars by email.

Please be advised that CFE is going to resume issuing regulatory circulars via email effective immediately.

You should have received this notice by email if you were previously signed up to receive notice of CFE regulatory circulars by email or were on the TPH distribution list for CFE regulatory circulars. If you wish to resume receiving CFE regulatory circulars by email, no action is required on your part. Any person wishing to unsubscribe from email notification of CFE regulatory circulars may email RegulatoryCirculars@cboe.com and request to be removed from the email distribution list for futures.

Any person that would like to receive email notice of CFE regulatory circulars going forward may email RegulatoryCirculars@cboe.com and request to be added to the email distribution list for futures.

The Exchange will continue to post CFE Regulatory Circulars on its website. TPHs and others may also receive notice when CFE issues a regulatory circular by subscribing to the RSS feed for CFE regulatory circulars on the RSS Feed Subscription Page of the CFE website.

TPHs have an obligation to comply with CFE rules. Email notice of regulatory circulars is solely intended as an added convenience. TPHs should monitor for and review regulatory circulars through the receipt of email notifications of regulatory circulars, the RSS feed for regulatory circulars, or otherwise.
